

Religion Study Guide Chapter 15 Test 2/23

Within our Christian families , we learn to grow in our faith and choose what is good, take part in the Church community, and work with other families to help build a better world.

When we follow the Fourth Commandment , we honor and appreciate our parents and guardians, and all who lead and serve us.

The Fourth Commandment tells us to Honor our Mother and Father.

Jesus was obedient to his mother Mary, and to his foster Father, Joseph.

Every Christian family is called to be a domestic Church.

With the Church's help, Catholic parents help their children grow in faith.

Citizens and leaders have a responsibility to work together for peace.

Following the first three commandments helps us show our love for God.

Following the Fourth through Tenth Commandments helps us show our love for others.

A church in the home is also known as a domestic Church.

Jesus, Mary, and Joseph are called the Holy Family.

An important way to honor our parents and guardians is to obey, respect, and appreciate them.

What does obedience mean in living out the Fourth Commandment?

What are some of the responsibilities we have to our families and to our Church community?

What are some responsibilities we have as citizens of our communities, states, and nations?
