

	MONDAYS		TUESDAYS		WEDNESDAYS		THURSDAYS		FRIDAYS
WEEK 1	Problem Solving		Perspective Taking		Asking Questions		Having a Conversation		Figurative Language
	You get lost from your class at the ice skating rink. What do you do?		You could discuss for hours whether or not elves are real, but your friend wants to talk about the new Star Wars movie. What does he want to discuss?		You want to stay up until midnight to celebrate New Year's Eve. What do you ask your parents?		Have a conversation with a friend about what it would be like to live in the North Pole. Look at the person when speaking and take turns.		What do I mean? When I got on the stage and saw all of those people watching me, I got cold feet .
WEEK 2	Your snowman melted before you could show your friends. What do you do?		You got the cool camera you wanted for your birthday, but your friend didn't get one for her birthday. How does your friend feel?		You want to tell your class about the cool thunderstorm you saw. What do you ask your teacher?		Have a conversation with a friend about what it would be like to be a snowman. Be sure to look at the person when you speak, and take turns talking.		What do I mean? After a long day of ice skating, Leo got into the car and was out cold before mom started the car.
	You let Amanda borrow your mittens and she took them home by accident. What do you do?		You brought your camera to take pictures of your friends at the party, but your friend wants to take videos. What do they want to do?		You want to invite your friend to see the new Star Wars movie. What do you ask him or her?		Have a conversation about why it would be a bad idea to wear shorts while skiing. Be sure to look at the person when you speak, and take turns talking.		What do I mean? At bedtime, mom covered me with all of my blankets, so I was snug as a bug in a rug .
WEEK 3	You spilled your entire mug of hot chocolate all over the cafeteria floor. What do you do?		Your teacher asked you to wait before putting the glitter on your snowflake, but you were too excited and spilled the glitter all over. How does your teacher feel?		You didn't hear what your teacher said about the temperature of the North Pole. What do you ask your teacher?		Have a conversation with a friend about what would happen if you caught snowflakes on your tongue. Be sure to look at your friend and take turns.		What do I mean? Mom found out that I didn't turn in my homework. She told me, "You're really skating on thin ice! "
