Designing with HTML

Look at the HTML code shown here. There are several common errors in the code sample

1. Identify each of the errors on each line of the code on the chart below.

2. Enter the code, excluding the line numbers, into your text editor making the corrections in each of the errors.

3. Save the document to your HTML folder as analysys1.htm and preview it in your browser.

4. Add your name to the title of the document.

5. Print the code and turn in with this worksheet.

NOTE: Not all errors will show up in the output of the document.

```
1.   <html>
2.   <head>
3.   <title>Children's Poems<title>
4.
5.   <body>
6.   <h2 align="center>A Thousand Hairy Savages</h1>
7.   <h3 align="center">by Spike Milligan</h3>
8.   <center>
9.   A thousand hairy savages
10.  sitting down to lunch
11.  Gobble Gobble glup glup
12.  Munch, Munch, Munch.
13.  </center>
14.  <hr width="90% />
15.  <h2 aline="center">The Dog</h2>
16.  <h3 align=center>by Ogden Nash<h3>
17.  <CENTER>
18.  The truth I do not stretch or shove<BR />
19.  When I state the dog is full of love.
20.  I've also proved, by actual test,
21.  A wet dog is the lovingest.
22.
23.  </body>
24.  </html>
```

Line	Error Found (If no error, write "none" in the space")
1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24	