

A day in the life of an American high school student

This is Mr. Ohlsson!

Mr. Ohlsson is a school teacher in Enköping, Sweden

- Mr. Ohlsson is helping his students learn about different cultures (world geography!) AND is helping them practice their English skills

We decided that this would be a great opportunity to both learn from each other

Explain what a “day in the life” of an American High School student is like. For our first discussion, stick to school life. Meaning don't talk about after school activities right now (we will get to that in later talks)

Since Mr. Ohlsson's students are working on their English either WRITE or VIDEO your response

- If you wrote on paper- Hand it in
  - If you typed your response- email it to me (Hannah.Oldham@cobbk12.org)
  - If you did a video- email/or share the link with me (Hannah.Oldham@cobbk12.org)
- Then I will send all of the responses to Mr. Ohlsson and Mr. Ohlsson will send us the responses from his students! Together we will get the chance to really get to know what life is like in another country!
